Living by Faith by Jeff A. Jenkins

More than 2500 years ago, Habakkuk, a man of God, approached God in prayer.

and the fact that many ignored the laws of God (Habakkuk 1:2-4).

He literally "cried out" to God. He pleaded with God to do something about the mess in the world around him. He wondered aloud if God would hear his prayer?

God responded to Habakkuk by saying that if he were told all that God was doing he wouldn't believe it (Habakkuk 1:5). God was working among his people. God was still in charge.

He spoke of violence, iniquity, wickedness, destruction, strife, and contention. He talked about the wicked overcoming the righteous

God then tells Habakkuk that there is something he could do to help. The first thing was to clearly proclaim God's message (Habakkuk 2:2). In addition, he was told that he should live his life by faith.

"Behold, as for the proud one, his soul is not right within him; but the righteous will live by his faith." (Habakkuk 2:4) The point is that regardless of what others around you are doing, God's people should decide to live by faith.

Now, 2500 years removed from the days of Habakkuk, people of God again find themselves in a world that has lost its way. The very words Habakkuk used to define his world, are words that define our world.

God's people need the strength to live our lives by faith. When we gather as God's people around his table we gain strength to live our lives by faith. We gain strength to live by faith when we encourage one another and pray with one another.

Dear God, help us in our fallen world to live our lives by faith. As we gather around the table, as your family may we gain strength from one another and from the feast that we share.

The Kind of Love I Want

It was approximately 8:30 a.m. on a busy morning at the doctor's office when an elderly gentleman in his 80's arrived to have stitches removed from his thumb. He stated he was in a hurry to make an appointment by 9.00 a. m.

I took his vital signs and had him take a seat, knowing it might be an hour before he would be seen. Seeing him look at his watch, I decided, since I was not busy with another patient I would evaluate his wound. On examination, I saw it was well healed so I talked to the doctor and got the supplies to remove his sutures. While redressing his wound, we engaged in conversation.

I asked him if he was in a hurry to meet another doctor's appointment. He said no, that he needed to go to the nursing home to eat breakfast with his wife. I inquired as to her health. He said that she was a long-time victim of Alzheimer's Disease.

I asked if she would be worried if he was a bit late. He replied that she no longer knew who he was; in fact, she had not recognized him in five years. I was surprised and asked, "And you still go every morning, even though she doesn't know who you are?" He smiled, patted my head, and said, "She doesn't know who I am, but I still know who she is." I had to hold back tears as he left. Goose bumps covered my arm as I thought, "That's is the kind of love I want in my life!

"True love is neither physical nor romantic. True love is an acceptance of all that is, has been, will be and will not be.
