Read the Bible Through in 2010

Last week our lessons emphasized the importance of reading the scriptures in order to not only strengthen our spiritual lives but also to open our understanding so we can better teach others. I am planning to preach my Sunday evening lessons from one of the texts in the scheduled week’s readings. I will plan to begin that process on the first Sunday in January. To get us started together I am printing a schedule which will give you a reading from each of these sections of scripture: Old Testament, New Teastament, Psalms, and Proverbs. The schedule is taken from an online site, The One Year Bible Online.com <http://www.oneyearbibleonline.com/oneyearweekly.php?version=47&startmdd=0101> So we can get into the habit immediately, I will post the readings for this week, beginning with those scheduled for December 27. Look on the back page of the bulletin.

God Hath Not Promised

1. God hath not promised skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways all our lives through;
God hath not promised sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow, peace without pain.

Chorus: But God hath promised strength for the day,
Rest for the labor, light for the way,
Grace for the trials, help from above,
Unfailing sympathy, undying love.

2. God hath not promised we shall not know
Toil and temptation, trouble and woe;
He hath not told us we shall not bear
Many a burden, many a care.

3. God hath not promised smooth roads and wide,
Swift, easy travel, needing no guide;
Never a mountain, rocky and steep,
Never a river, turbid and deep.

Annie Johnson Flint (1866-1932)
